

Mission Statement

Trust, Honest Communication and the promotion of best practice in providing a healthy living environment for all CRST Members.

CRST Environmental Health Program

PO Box 590
Eagle Butte, South Dakota 57625
Phone: (605) 964-6190/6192
Fax: (605) 964-1255

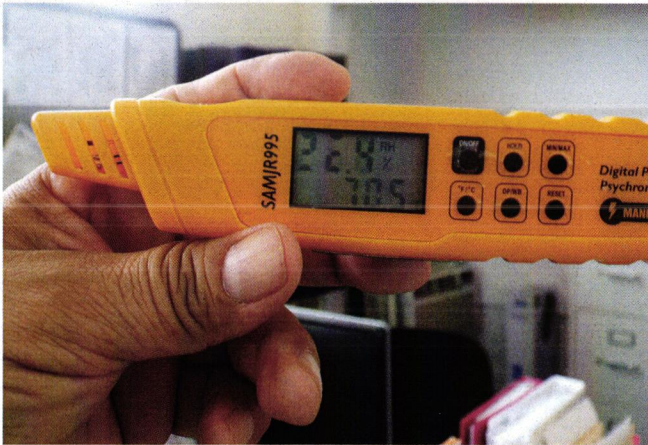

CRST ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM

Randolph Runs After Sanitarian/Environmental Health Specialist
(605) 964-6190
sanitarian@lakotanetwork.com

Cathy Gray
Environmental Health
Technician
(605) 964-6192
cathygray38@gmail.com

SCOPE OF WORK

“Your program is the greatest I can’t imagine our communities without your services provide.”
- Jo Lawrence

The Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe Environmental Health Program investigates and evaluates environmental health hazards and develops and implements specific CRST environmental health program goals. Provides consultation on environmental conditions to the public, tribe, and government agencies. Our services are prioritized by the following categories:

- Food Safety Surveillance
- Food Service Inspections
- Food Handling Certification
- Pest and Rodent Control Guidance
- Emergency Management Assistance
- Indoor Air Quality
- Healthy Home Inspections
- Operational Business Inspections
- Mold and Moisture Prevention
- Safety and Infection Control
- Injury Prevention
- Life Safety Promotion
- Health Facility Safety
- Tribal Facility Safety
- Community Clean-Up

The Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe Environmental Health Program responds accordingly to emerging health threats that are traversing in South Dakota and across tribal lands and communities. We are focused on increased public education awareness in conjunction with other established efforts and protocols already in place by tribal, state, and federal health agencies.

Motto: A motivated Tribal Health Program partnering with other tribal programs and local entities to provide healthy environments for every member and community.

